herbert mccabe struck those who met him alasdair macintyre anthony kenny terry eagleton denys turner or those who read his writings david burrell stanley hauerwas for his high intelligence he was the most intelligent philosopher after the death of karl popper his philosophical inquiries on god and the human being have yet to be properly understood not because they were abstruse clarity was mccabe s inexorable sword but because of their dizzying depth for which many are not yet prepared this is the first comprehensive study of mccabe a person who preferred speaking to writing and left only the short fragmented and dispersed texts of his lectures and sermons but in this book to use david burrell s words manni has managed to get inside mccabe s mind and assemble together for the first time the disiecta membra of a powerful system of thought postmodern texts have generally been associated with a radical challenge of established conventions and with an anything goes mentality which seems to exclude serious ethical discussion while the postmodern texts of the american novel and short story writers donald barthelme and william gass indeed challenge traditional ethical rules they are nonetheless deeply concerned with moral questions using contemporary ethics as its theoretical framework the study shows that the fiction of barthelme and gass not only makes readers aware of the complexity of ethical issues but also argues that the premise for good ethical behavior is to have the right postmodern attitude to be open minded flexible and able to deal with the ambiguities of life retrospectively these findings can also be applied to other postmodern writers to reveal the hidden ethical dimensions of their fictions
